

Senior Moments – My theory is that senior moments are a good thing. By our age our brains are full and there is no more room. So, to make room for more knowledge, we have to forget some things; thus, making room for new stuff to remember!